The Business of Banking

must be conducted on conservative and strictly business methods. No bank should engage in buying real estate or stocks in expectation of making a profit. The deposits must be employed in the legitimate channels of trade, and upon approved security. The Savings Bank has consistently pursued this course during the twenty-four years of its existence. Every dollar has been made to work for the benefit of the community.

But after all the basis of security is the character of the men who manage the institution. Directors must direct, and where you find a body of men who have made good in their own affairs, you may rest assured their names are a guarantee for security and square dealing. The Board of Directors of the Savings Bank is composed of men of affairs and reputation, the business of the Savings Bank is conducted and supervised without favor to any one.

The Savings Bank lends money on Real Estate and does not buy speculative securities.

One Dollar starts an account.

Travelers' Cheques issued, good everywhere.

ATTACKS AND ROBS VISITOR IN STREET

Alleged Tramp Knocks Down Asheville Man, Takes Cash, but Is Quickly Caught.

J. F. Cooley, of Asheville, N. C., who is here visiting his son in South Cherry Street, was knocked down and robbed of $2 yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Sixth and Broad Streets, by a man who gave his name as William Johnson, believed to be a tramp from Baltimore. He was arrested by policeman Crahan and Duke and locked up at the Second Police Station with a charge of highway robbery lodged against him.

Mr. Cooley was accosted by Johnson and asked to buy a drink. He explained that he had barely sufficient money to pay his transportation to North Carolina, and therefore was unable to do so.

At this point witnesses said, Johnson struck Cooley a staggering blow on the chin, knocking him to the ground. Before the prostrate man could rise, Johnson is alleged to have put his hand into his trousers pocket and taken the three one-dollar bills.

The attack was seen by several persons, who ran in search of a policeman. Crahan and Duke were found. They hurried to the scene and caught Johnson as he was boarding a car bound for South Richmond. He was pointed out by witnesses, who unsuccessfully identified him as Cooley's assailant.

EFFICIENCY

Plus---

Efficiency plus—that is the expression that best describes our method of handling orders. We have brought our shipping department to the highest state of efficiency, believing that this phase of our business is of as much importance as all the others combined. Not alone in the shipping room, but outside too, this efficiency idea has been carried. Deliveries by auto truck constitute no small feature in the general plan.

Plumbers

will appreciate the dispatch with which orders are handled. Quick delivery of material oftentimes means larger profits on the job. In other ways prompt deliveries are of advantage.

Try us with that next order, Mr. Plumber. You have nothing to lose by doing so and everything to gain.

Twenty-Five Graded and Two Public High Schools Open Thursday Morning.

ACCOMMODATIONS ARE AMPLE

Dr. Chandler Is Confident That New Buildings Will Meet Big Increase.

When the bell rings Thursday morning at the twenty-five graded and two high schools, it is estimated that 21,000 pupils will respond to the call. These figures were given out yesterday by J. C. Chandler, superintendent of public schools, and while not official, will not miss the mark far.

The probable attendance is estimated from the figures of former years, allowing for the average growth. Although there is every indication of a big increase, Dr. Chandler is not worrying over the congestion, as two new schools will be used for the first time this session, one building is under construction, and an annex to another has been started.

At a conference of principals, plans for the distribution of supplies and other incidental matters were perfected. It was determined that the enrollment of pupils would begin next Thursday morning, when both new and old pupils will be registered. All lists of supplies will be ready, and the children will be assigned to their proper grades, so that the actual school work may begin Friday morning.

Bellevue School Not Ready

Bellevue School will not be ready until September 15, and the pupils of Bellevue School, both old and new, are requested to report at the building on September 15, instead of September 11. The delay in opening this school is due to lack of sewer connections, and the uncompleted state of a number of the rooms. Because of this fact, the furniture has not been installed. The Virginia School Supply Company will begin to install the furniture to-morrow morning.

The total enrollment at the High School last year was 1,391. It is expected that the total enrollment this year will be nearly 1,500, which will tax to the utmost the capacity of the building.

The total enrollment of the Richmond schools for the year just closed was 19,222. It is expected that for session 1913-14, the total enrollment will reach very near to 21,000.

Two new buildings will be used this session for the first time, John H. Cary School, corner Rowland and Beverly Streets, recently constructed at a cost of $80,000. This building will accommodate about 750 pupils. Bellevue School, Twenty-Third and Grand Streets, erected at a cost of $110,000, will accommodate about 500 pupils.

Last year the new Madison School and the annex at Chimborazo School were opened for the first time for white pupils, and Buchanan School for colored pupils. The year before the William E. Fox and the Grace Arents Schools were opened for the first time. New Springfield School and the annex at Baker School are now under construction.

Changes in Faculty

A number of changes in the faculties of the schools have been made this year. At the High School Dr. C. C. Pearson resigned to become acting principal of the University of Washington, and Lee University. Several other teachers have resigned. The new teachers at the High School are Frank G. Spear, Kenley J. Clarke, William L. Elkins, John Simpson and Miss Aurelia H. Hester, all of whom are experienced teachers.

Principals were assigned to the schools as follows:

J. C. Harwood, John Marshall High School; S. P. Duke, Nicholson and Louisiana Schools; J. T. Fontaine, Chimborazo and Oakwood Schools; Edgar Woolfolk, Springfield School; Miss Helen Dickinson, Fairmount School; Ernest Shawen, Bellevue School; W. C. Blakey, Jefferson School; W. A. Crenshaw, Grace School; W. C. Jones, Madison School; George E. Bennett, Grace Arents School; H. P. Cox, Elba School; D. H. Rucker, Stonewall Jackson School; W. H. Cooke, Randolph School; C. H. Dunaway, Sidney School; J. H. Saunders, Fox School; E. E. Smith, Powhatan and Rainbridge Schools; S. D. Turner, Armstrong High and Monroe School; J. H. Brent, George Mason and Twenty-ninth Street Schools; J. T. Walker, Buchanan School; W. M. Adams, Baker School; S. A. Stanger, New Hill School; H. G. Carlton, Moore and Newtown Schools.

Assign Teachers Wednesday

The annual teachers' meeting, as announced to each teacher on the slip informing him of his election, will be held on Wednesday morning, September 10, at 10 o'clock. At this meeting the assignments will be announced. Examinations for pupils at the John Marshall High School will begin to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and continue Monday and Tuesday. Applications for admission to the University of Washington, principal at the John Marshall High School Building.

POLLARD'S LEAD GROWS

Further Returns Give Him Three More Votes Over Williams.

Seven more precinct returns were opened yesterday, and John Garland Pollard's lead over S. W. Williams for the nomination of the Democratic ticket was increased by three votes. The returns showed forty-five for Pollard and forty-two for Williams. One of the precincts reporting was from Carroll County, two from Fairfax and one from Western Branch. Three returns from Carroll County sent in no returns at all, reporting blank, no election in them having been held.

There are now only twelve precincts missing, and every county in the State, with the exception of eight, has sent in complete returns.

The State Committee has been called to meet at Murphy's Hotel on September 11, when the certificates of nomination will be awarded to the successful candidates.

Paint Contract Nearly Finished

The $10,000 painting contract at the post-office will be completed, it is expected, before the latter part of the week. The entire interior of the big structure is getting its first touch of paint. The walls have been covered with canvas, on top of which three coats were laid. The color scheme is buff.

Negro Gets Day in Jail

One day in jail was the sentence imposed yesterday on Frank Crawford, colored, who was arraigned before Magistrate H. A. Smith, of Henrico County, on a charge of assaulting Andrew Munro with a railroad spike.

INSPECT MILITIA LATE THIS MONTH

Commands Not Attending Encampment at Beach Will Be Visited.

Blues' Battalion and Three Batteries of Field Artillery Only Ones.

Military commands that did not attend the State encampment during the past summer will be inspected within a few weeks by Colonel Jo Lane Stern, Assistant Inspector-General, Virginia Volunteers. It is probable that the first inspection will be held about September 20, and that all will be finished before the latter part of the month.

The First, Second and Third Regiments of Infantry, together with headquarters and bands, were inspected by Colonel Stern while at Virginia Beach, in July. The four companies comprising the Richmond Light Infantry Blues Battalion did not attend this encampment, nor did the three batteries of field artillery.

Colonel Stern held a conference Friday with Adjutant-General W. W. Sale, and it was determined that there would not be any inventory of company property taken at this time. It is probable that all stores will be inspected during the winter by the United States Army sergeants, who are detailed for duty in this State, but this has not yet been decided upon.

Will Set Dates Soon

The dates of inspection of the Blues and the Field Artillery will be arranged by Colonel Stern in a conference with Major E. W. Bowles and Major T. M. Wortham, commanding the three regiments of Infantry, to inspect Companies A and B, together with the band, one night and Companies C and D on the following night. The Richmond Howitzers, Battery A, Norfolk Blues, Battery B, and Grimes Battery, Battery C, of Portsmouth, are always visited separately. The attendance at the annual State inspection settles the appropriation to each command from the military fund. The sum of $10 given for each enlisted man answering the roll.

Colonel Stern's annual pilgrimage will be very short this year, as the three regiments inspected in camp comprise the bulk of the State military force. The three regiments of Infantry, three bands and brigade headquarters in attendance at the encampment, while the Blues number four companies and the artillery three batteries.

Inspection in camp, the State annually saves a big sum on the fair weather soldiers, or those who join an organization for the fun of parading the streets of his home town in a uniform. The Blues, however, are always at the annual encampment had less than two-thirds of the minimum number, and will have their appropriation considerably cut down.

The four companies of the First Regiment from Richmond had a good representation. The Blues and Howitzers always turn out a large proportion of their enlisted men, averaging close to 100 per cent. The more arduous military duties, therefore, will be well taken care of this year at least.

The Virginia Volunteers this year are said to be in better shape than ever before. The equipment is new and up-to-date, and the personnel is way above the average.

BURY GIRARD AND YOUTHFUL VICTIM

Funerals of Principals in Henrico Tragedy Held Yesterday.

Oscar Girard Found.

Funeral services over the remains of George Henry Girard and William Wirt Perkins, principals in the double tragedy of Henrico County last Thursday afternoon, were conducted yesterday afternoon at their respective homes. Large crowds gathered at each home and viewed the bodies, while hundreds of mourners congregated in the burial grounds to see the caskets lowered into the graves.

The funeral of Girard was held at 2 o'clock from his home near Varina, while that of Perkins was held at 4:30 o'clock from the home of his mother, Mrs. Georgia Perkins Childrey, near-by. Rev. Joel T. Tucker, pastor of Four-Mile Baptist Church, officiated at both services. Perkins was buried in the family plot in the Church farm, while Girard was in the church grounds.

Neither John nor Oscar Girard attended the funeral of their father, as neither had been notified of the shooting. The mystery surrounding the disappearance of the latter was cleared up yesterday morning when a letter was received from him. He was addressed to his father, and told how he had met a friend and borrowed enough money to accompany his brother and family back to Michigan. No reason for this sudden trip was given.

The funeral of Perkins was held this morning, and will be met there by telegrams telling them that their father killed Perkins and then himself. The conduct of both the former and the latter's quarrel with young Perkins, is thought to be the direct cause of the double killing.

Seldom has such a large number of persons attended a funeral in Henrico. Hundreds of strangers traveled to the homes to view the bodies, and congregated around. The sight was unusual. Shortly after the crowd began to disperse, Edgar Knight, a cousin of Wirt Perkins, and Tom Throckmorton got into an altercation. Magistrate Freeman, in talking with Sheriff Kemp last night, stated that the trouble was not serious. Officer John Shoemaker, sent by Sheriff Kemp to investigate and to make arrests if necessary to preserve order.

PHYSICIAN LOSES RACE WITH DEATH

William H. Peacock, Who Took Poison, Dies on Way to City Hospital.

PUT IN PRIVATE MACHINE

Fulton Man Ends Life by Swallowing Quicksilver and Carbolic Acid.

In a race with death early last night, Dr. M. F. Torregrossa lost, William H. Peacock, of 2817 Williamsburg Avenue, dying in a private automobile in which he was being rushed to the City Hospital.

Peacock, a painter by trade, had made sure of his end by swallowing large doses of quicksilver and carbolic acid. He was unconscious when the ambulance physician arrived, and his body had been so saturated by the fiery acid he had swallowed that it was impossible to insert the stomach pump.

Friends of the family wished, however, that the dying man be taken to the City Hospital, and the ambulance chauffeur rushed to a nearby garage and impressed P. H. Blaska, of 924 Louisiana Street, and his automobile into service.

Placed in Dash Through Town

Placing Peacock in the automobile, Dr. Torregrossa followed, and held him in the rear seat. Then began the ride to the City Hospital. Putting the car in the fast gear, the doctor sped the automobile past electric cars and vehicles and through throngs of people waiting on the corners to board cars. Peacock showed wonderful vitality and energy. The car was turned from Main Street into Fifth. As the car rushed into the turn he gave a gasp, and his head fell back on Dr. Torregrossa's shoulder. Hundreds of people turned to look as the automobile sped across Broad Street, but probably none knew that it carried such gruesome freight. No one attempted to stop the car, as the driver showed that it was an emergency case.

Much excitement was created on Main Street as the car sped on, but, hearing the hoarse cries of the horns, every one gave it a wide berth. Street cars halted for it at the corners, and other vehicles went close to the curbing in order to avoid collision.

Long in Health

A message had been sent ahead to the City Hospital. All the house physicians were ready, and rushed to the side of the machine as it halted in the rear of the hospital. Peacock was dead, though his body was still warm. The body was placed on a cot to be ready for examination by Coroner Taylor, in which he found all the facts he decided that it would be necessary to make the examination until to-day. The body was then turned over to Undertaker Woody.

Peacock, according to his wife, had been in ill health for some time, and lately had been very dependent. At 8:30 o'clock last night he went to his room, took off his coat, collar and necktie, evidently swallowed the two poisons separately, and then laid down on the bed. Once bottles, one of which contained the quicksilver and the other carbolic acid, were found on the dresser near the bed, and both were empty. A member of the family heard Peacock groaning, and, going into the room, saw at once what had happened. A call was sent to the City Hospital, and Dr. Torregrossa made all haste in responding.

The tire was punctured just as the ambulance halted in front of Peacock's home. The driver then had to Blaska's assistance. Blaska expressed regret that his effort had been of no avail. The other city ambulance is in the shop for repairs, and Dr. M. L. Boyle, of the incinerator, placed his own automobile at the service of the hospital.

Peacock was forty-eight years old. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Leaves On Visit to Marion

James F. Pendleton, private secretary to Governor Edgar Allan, Jr., left last night for Marion, Va., where he will spend a week with his father, the editor of the Marion American.

MEANY NOW HEADS EXECUTIVE BOARD

Richmond Deputy Collector Is Honored by National Internal Revenue Association.

Although Richmond failed to land the next annual convention of the National Internal Revenue Association, one plum fell this way.

Deputy Collector Thomas F. Meany, of the local office, was advanced to the chairmanship of the executive committee, and is the only Southern man holding an important position in the association. Mr. Meany returned home yesterday morning from Chicago, where he was one of the representatives from the Second District of Virginia. He was well pleased with the work accomplished by the convention, and while he was disappointed that he and his coworkers were unable to have Richmond selected as the next meeting place, he is entirely satisfied with the choice for 1914, the association deciding to meet at that time in Washington.

The association is composed entirely of revenue men, and was organized four years ago to promote the work of the department. It meets annually, when important questions concerning the revenue are discussed, and time is given to the members to discuss, discuss, Papers on big subjects are read by members, and speakers of national reputation talk on general questions.

Mr. Meany has been on the executive board of the association for several years. Until the last meeting he ranked third, and heads this important committee. The Southern representation in the association is not as large as that of other sections, and it is extremely gratifying to the members that one of their men should rank so high. The new officers of the association are Deputy Collector Anderson, of Philadelphia, president, and Deputy Collector Powers, of Chicago, vice-president. Mr. William Sheffer, of Baltimore, although no longer in the service, was re-elected secretary.

The local delegates to the Chicago convention were Deputy Collectors Thomas F. Meany, M. M. Stoddard, W. L. Dolan and Charles Geo.

GROGER WOUNDED BY ANGRY NEGRO TO BAR NEGROES AT GIRLS' HOME

Sidney Tinsley Attacked by John Pryor When Ordered to Leave Hull Street Store.

Executive Board Will Investigate Outbreak at Institution Near Bon Air.

Angered when ordered to leave the establishment, John Pryor, colored, drew out a knife and attacked Sidney Tinsley, junior member of the grocery firm of Tinsley Brothers, Fourteenth and Hull Streets, last night shortly after 10 o'clock, and cut a gash six inches in length in his right arm. Wildly waving the blood-stained weapon around his head, the negro quickly cleared a path to the front door, and, dashing through the crowd on the sidewalk, made his escape.

The attack on Mr. Tinsley was unexpected. Pryor had engaged in an altercation with the driver of an automobile, and, during the worst of the encounter, backed into the corner grocery, where his actions threw the women customers in a panic. Mr. Tinsley walked over to the negro, and, grasping him by the arm, told him to get out.

Without answering, Pryor reached into his back pocket and drew out a knife with the blade already opened, and, quick as a flash, lunged at the grocer. The wound is in the upper part of the arm, and severed the muscles. It is six inches long, and went to the bone. The injury was treated by Drs. T. D. Jones and M. P. Rucker.

Captain Alexander S. Wright, of the Third District, and several officers who were attracted by the commotion, took up the chase, but were unable to locate the assailant. Pryor is well-known in police circles. He has a brother now serving a penitentiary sentence for felonious shooting.

Hull Street, which is crowded Saturday nights at that point, was thrown in a uproar over the affair.

September 5,

Executive Board Will Investigate Outbreak at Institution Near Bon Air.

Negroes will not be employed hereafter at the Virginia Home and Industrial School for Girls, near Bon Air, according to a conclusion arrived at yesterday by the executive board of the home, meeting in the study of Rev. H. D. C. MacLachlan, D. D. Those attending the meeting besides Dr. MacLachlan, were Rev. George W. MacDaniel, D. D., Rev. James Buchanan and Robert Lecky, Jr.

After some discussion of the fact that the negro, Haverley Banks, about whom hinged the investigation conducted by the State Board of Charities and Corrections at the order of Governor Mann, had been re-employed, a resolution was passed prohibiting the employment of negroes at the home in future. Dr. Buchanan and Mr. Lecky were appointed a committee to investigate the last outbreak at the home, which occurred during the two days' absence of Mrs. M. M. Light, matron, and to learn why no official report of it was made to the executive board. The board was informed of the outbreak by W. H. Turpin, the overseer elected in place of Banks, who was driven some distance from the home last Wednesday and left in the middle of the road in a heavy rain. The members of the committee are determined to put an end to the outbreaks, and stringent measures will be taken to prevent a repetition of them.
